DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because boxes 31-38 must be labeled. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. This application does not contain an abstract of the disclosure as required by 37 CFR 1.72(b). An abstract on a separate sheet is required.
4. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: applicant must provide data about related applications on page 1 of the specification..

Appropriate correction is required.

5. The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout and content for patent applications. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

Art Unit: 2832

The following order or arrangement is preferred in framing the specification and, except for the reference to the drawings, each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underling or bold type, as section headings. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) Title of the Invention.
- (b) Cross-Reference to Related Applications.
- (c) Statement Regarding Federally Sponsored Research or Development.
- (d) Reference to a "Sequence Listing," a table, or a computer program listing appendix submitted on compact disc (see 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5)).
- (e) Background of the Invention.
  - 1. Field of the Invention.
  - 2. Description of the Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) Brief Summary of the Invention.
- (g) Brief Description of the Several Views of the Drawing(s).
- (h) Detailed Description of the Invention.
- (I) Claim or Claims (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) Abstract of the Disclosure (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) Drawings.
- (l) Sequence Listing, if on paper (see 37 CFR 1.821-1.825).

6. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities:

In line 1, "Superconducting ... comprising" should be corrected as -- A superconducting ... comprising: --. In line 19, "current flows" should be corrected as -- current flow --. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2832

8. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, line 6, applicant should specify what is meant by "a B0 shim coil." In line 17, applicant should clarify what is specifically meant by "provide significant compensation."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 1-14, as best able to be understood in view of the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamaguchi et al. [US 4,700,136] in view of Toyoda et al. [US 4,713,722].

Yamaguchi et al. disclose a NMR apparatus comprising:

- a main coil assembly [1] for producing a central magnetic field in a working volume [column 2, lines 53-63];

Art Unit: 2832

- main current supply means connected to the main coil for energizing/deenergizing the main coil assembly with a desired amount of constant current level has been reached [column 3, lines 1-15] to generate a central magnetic field of high homogeneity in the working volume;

- a shim coil assembly [2], wound about the same former assembly as the main winding, for providing adjustment of the central magnetic field and magnetically coupled thereto [column 3, lines 15-55];

- auxiliary control means for the shim coil assembly for providing compensation and adjustment of the magnetic field within the working volume while maintaining the magnetic field within the volume [column 3, line 44-column 4, line 26].

Yamaguchi et al. disclose the instant claimed invention except for: the coils being superconductive.

Toyoda et al. discloses a compensation coil system for a superconducting magnet system.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a superconducting magnet for the magnet coil system of Yamaguchi et al., as suggested by Toyoda et al., for the purpose of improving the quality of the magnetic field.

Regarding claims 2-3 and 6-7, Toyoda et al. discloses the operation of the coils being time dependent.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to consideration time variations in the coil control of Yamaguchi et al., as suggested by Toyoda et al., in order to compensate for varying field strengths over time periods.

Art Unit: 2832

Toyoda et al. discloses the use of a heating element used with the windings.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a heater element in Yamaguchi et al., as modified, in order to control the superconductivity.

The specific winding directions and number of compensating coils used would have been an obvious design consideration based on the desired field strength and necessary adjustments.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
